

Family PACT: Client Responsibilities

This section outlines a client's responsibilities for enrolling in the Family PACT Program.

Client Responsibilities

Each person seeking family planning services under Family PACT must:

- Complete the Client Eligibility Certification (CEC) form. Eligibility is based on the client's self-declaration of gross monthly income, family size, other source of health care coverage and California residency, signed under penalty of perjury. CEC completion is required during the initial eligibility session and annually thereafter.

Note: Refer to "Gross Family Income Definition" in the Family PACT: Provider Guidelines for Determining Client Eligibility [familypact4] section of this manual for additional information about income standards, including standards for computing gross family income for seasonal workers.

- Report on the CEC all facts that are pertinent to the determination of eligibility and certification for services.
- Report at each family planning visit any changes in the facts pertinent to their eligibility determination (family size, gross family income, California residence, and risk of pregnancy or causing pregnancy) and any changes in the client's demographic information.
- Report any entitlement to other health care coverage for family planning services to the provider at the time of application, recertification or at any time the health care coverage changes.

Consent of Parents or Others Not Required

The provision of family planning services does not require the consent of anyone other than the person who is to receive services. Minors may apply for family planning services on the basis of their need for these services, without parental consent. A childless minor is considered a family of one for eligibility determination.
